

MRS. R. H. WALKER
201 WASHINGTON STREET
ATHENS, ALABAMA.

Wednesday Feb. 7, 1922.

My dear Mamma:-

I am feeling
the effects of a hard days work at the church yesterday and day before, but feel compensated since took the open meeting and the dinner passed off satisfactorily.

We have had a four or five inch snow on the ground for three days, so in consideration of the weather, Thomas Sanders let us have the dinner in the primary room of the treatment and they were so well pleased that they voluntarily suggested that we have it there for the

MRS. R. H. WALKER
201 WASHINGTON STREET
ATHENS, ALABAMA.

3

next two months. Speaking of business, reminds me that Blanche is chair now for next Tuesday night and she wants you to get Sue's market man to send her her, C. C. S. two and a half doz. (2½) green peppers, large size, and two (2) heads of cauliflower. Send it the letter part of this work, so she will be sure of it. She worked so hard for me, that I was anxious to help her.

The mother kept members away from the meeting Monday and others. They were invited, there were no representatives present, from either the Baptist or Methodist churches. Cousin Mollie phoned that she was

MRS. R. H. WALKER
201 WASHINGTON STREET
ATHENS, ALABAMA.

afraid to come out and too, it was their regular day to meet.

Miss Mahrie presided nicely and Mrs. Mason did well. I read a piece and the music was good -

I was so glad to get "The Bright Shook" - think it will be comfortable this wet weather.
Will read and return it at once.

Mrs. Cement continues at the point of death and is so anxious to go but must see Frank, who cannot move for two weeks yet. I don't see why they do not bring him on a stretcher.

Bob Henry went rabbit hunting with Mr. Patton, Mr. Hall and their boys, Monday. It was a wonderful experience for him, but they failed to bring home

MRS. R. H. WALKER
201 WASHINGTON STREET
ATHENS, ALABAMA.

7

any game.

Mr. Gorbunich's father died of pneumonia Sunday and of course he is there for several days.

They received two or three messages close together, so he must have been taken violently.

He was seventy-five.

Miss Aida is going to Tallahassee, Fla., to visit her step-son before she returns to S. C. The note for her and I imagine, gave her the trip.

I have not seen Miss Lizzie since her return, but will do so today.

I am sorry Brother has had flu. He might take that cold again. I then taken two shots and is he not inconvenienced no, but perhaps the best one will take care of yourself. Love to Sue.
Devotedly, Mary.