

HUSBAND

My husband is very special he really means a lot to me. He has a gentle face and patient smile. There's some sadness I do recall, but there is always a kind word so I know he's loved by all. Believing this is a very difficult, still somehow we must try, the saddest word mankind knows will always be Good-bye. My husband always says "keep your head up." You'll make it and today, I'm saying to you keep your head up "we'll make it. I love you.
