My dear Mrs. McClellan:

You told me when you were here that if it was necessary, you would come to help me. I am sorry to say that I shall need all the support I can get for the next Board meeting (December 8.)

The Post Office inspectors have at last discovered the cause of the trouble with our mails, and as usual it is a trusted employe. I cannot write more.

Will you not be my guest at the Arlington for the meetings of the Board and the Continental Hall? I have asked several other State Regents so that there will be quite a little house party. Do come if you possibly can.

Faithfully yours,

Julia G. Scott
