

Dear Harry:- Sunday night.

MAR 8, 1937

For some reason you seem very much peeved with me why I don't know - I have never intentionally done any thing to either hurt you or any one else in the family!

The letter I wrote to Dad about rent or any thing like was because I was told that business could not be mentioned in your presence it made you so nervous. I had no idea what effect this would have on your heart.

You see I had twelve years with heart trouble not an operation but a terrible affection of it. I can't understand why all seem so disgusted with me.

The only reason I wrote to any one after about the Tent & the Land note was because I absolute couldn't get a reply or any information. Mertry wrote me I would have to get some one to look after my business that you were not able to look after your own. I wrote to Memory & Bob Hervey & Sarah also I wrote at Amy's request to see if Mr. Mc— had brought in any cotton. I didn't hear I didn't know but what he Mr Mc— had skipped the country. I was sure you could explain what disposition had been made of your cotton & but you see I had no mean of knowing your mind. Harry was sick in bed with the flu & he came down in the midst of all this drunk— I had only

Bob Henry to answer that I imagined memory is kept awfully busy. I wish Sarah or Ned could rest the upstairs apt there must not be much boom in Athens.

There is a ~~C~~room house ~~on~~ the next street to us that can be bought

In D1800 and it has a garage apt in the back that goes with it.
I do wish I could sell out what I have in Athens.

The thing most sensible & logical to do would be for us to come up there and live but I have an idea in some ways it would not be well rec'd, & would not a month to pay board with and all other expenses.

It seems too bad to have you with such things but there seems no remedy for it.

Possibly you can get work. We are not settled the Auto. business is terrible.

Mr. Crown the Agent for the Plymouth & Chrysler is flat, cars for D/O. down and I guess D/O. a month. Alf's visit like to have ruined as he cost a lot of money & we needed all we had & it was most humiliating. I am sorry to write such an unpleasant
