My dear "Baby": Your letter was the bearer of unexpected news, as well as matters of personal interest to me. I grow anxious if I do not hear regularly. "The Liberator" of course was especially welcomed as it contained merited and ⁽²⁾ beautiful tributes to Ryan. There is cause for forebodings as to the future influences that will dominate the town. Wall's conceit is amusing. Paul's masked resentment in utter and silent indifference, is to be preferred to his fulsome championship and praise.

The florist has taken up the matter of my order with the post office. I trust he will trace the³ lost floral, as his fee depends upon it. I regret I did not send it by Express.

Sue is keeping up with it.
I went to the Movies Friday night at the Empire. The picture was very thrilling, being laid in Havana, with a rum smuggler (American) in the leading role - and his daughter in love with the Government inspector. There was a very actor's grandmother and a cock fight, which were striking features, including the betting on the chickens.
(Alice Bannister) Mrs. Buell and her husband, the nephew and namesake of Secretary Herbert were Sue's guests at dinner last night. Alice and Sue were "chums" in their girlhood and their talk of course was reminiscent. I liked Mr. Buell - He is in the fertilizer business, located at Atlanta.

Alice is very bright but has lost her youthful charms. Geo. Malou was a beau of hers. I was sitting on the porch yesterday afternoon, when two girls passed: one of them looked very familiar. They turned and came in. It was Lorene Heunderspa and her roommate. The former says she is delighted with the Woman's College and has promised to come back and play some for me.

I want her to meet Ruth.
I have written to Mrs. Wood, but I must do something for her. If the Embroidery circle has any infant articles, I would like to buy something for Lottie's baby. Please let me know the prices, if the Society has baby clothes in stock.
Mella wrote me that Jennie Bell was doing exquisite work for it. I was surprised to learn of Pleas. new joy.
It will be a comfort to Annie

do not here looking so paucient - I have not heard how Anna Harris' operation resulted John Floyd came up to speak me on the Ford Mass meeting day. He was very cordial and invited me to visit him. Said he was now permanently in B. Mass and has a home there.
I hope the Spring will open early and your cough will be relieved - It has come down here. The children plays out every day in the little park in front of us. I think of Robt Ho when I watch them - They fly kites and play ball. I am so glad Wm. continues pleased with his work. Give him my love when you write. Emmet O'Neal is doing val able service in the interest of Henry Ford. I am told nothing will move Kilby toward calling an extra session but the next Legislature will give the death blow to the Ala. Power Co and its allies. Thanks to Harris
