

810 Elder St. Cloverdale.
Montgomery, Ala.
Feb. 22, 1922.

My dear "Baby":
Your

letter received yesterday was a most welcome messenger. The enclosed letter from the Red Book Magazine came with it, being forwarded from your address. Please ask Memory Pebles to place in your hands any further mail from that source. I cannot understand what became of the one of "Oct. 1." Ask her also to use the change she has belonging to me to pay for the Lecturer Church-Cook book or collection of Recipes which you can keep if you have not bought one. Thom. returned from Birmingham yesterday noon and gave me a graphic report of ^{the} Baquet - and the numerous complimentary social affairs he and Sue enjoyed during their visit. She will not get back until Wednesday tonight. Thom met Ella G. and Carrie Brown on the street and walked two or more blocks with them. They referred to your coming down in a very pleasant way. Sue and Thom were entertained at dinner and luncheon by several of the upper crust of society. Mr & Mrs.

Frank Nelson, Morris Bush the Barretts, and others. I cannot recall -

Hee says those people live in princely style.
Mrs. Nelson is a member of Mr. Edmond's Church and called for him and Sue at the Bartletts in her magnificent Packard Sunday morning to attend services there. Hee said Mr. B. accompanied her - the ladies being a step - That is a U. S. A. Church - and a $400,000 building is being erected for it.

The Ford meeting at the Theatre was immense.
Ex-Gov. Orneal making one of his best efforts.
Sam Frierson was ^{at} hand. He learned from many sources of the intense feeling of bitterness in the Tuscumbia and counties toward the Alabama Power Co.
He told Logan Martin

Brother of the President of the Co. that it would not be profit-table to them, if they were accepted by Congress - Thom had a letter from Sam Frierson yesterday, giving the sanguine report of Ed. Oreal who had just returned from Washington.
He claimed that he had the most unequivocal and loyal support of Ford pledged, and Horace was wild over the assurances from men that had the situation by the collar - There will be a wave of opposition to the Ala Power Co. sweeping the State before Mar. 1. and it is whispered that it will not be safe ^{to let the spirit of the people} for the Ala Power Co. to win.

The contests over finding the largest number of certain letters in the papers is having nummerous entries here.
Mrs. Gaston told me her sister won $5.00 from the Washington Post in one.
She resides in Washington.
Miss Nimmo Green made me a visit Saturday in response to my inquiries in regard to my book.
She knows the game.

having belonged to a coterie of writers in New York City. She gave me most valuable advice - as to Magazines and Publishers. Three of her novels are on the screen: the last one "One Clear Call" has Henry Hathall in the leading role. - I told her I had not thought of <sup>the young people like the water on the "Dumplings" and they are young people</sup> going into the Movies. There was so much scandal and rotten stuff in the films.

She says that a thorough house cleaning has begun and the reformation will be complete. The pay big price for the best plays.
I hope you can make your trip I have soon. Is Sammie still with you?

Tell Robt. Henry I am so glad he was pleased with his toy and kiss him for. I replied at once to your fine letter. He will come out all right! I would have sent you "If Winter Comes" but Sue began to feel just before her eye trouble and I have waited for her to finish it. Tell Snow, I received the books yesterday with the M.M.s. and thank her very much for her trouble. Give my love to inquiring friends. I am Wilbur M. Foster and we went to the Cabeteria for lunch. He looks fine.
