

3-10-1907.

Dear Mary:

As to your moving ability I am unimpaired, but if you do want as nicely as your letters are pleasant and agreeable to us in new relations Mary should be wonderfully well pleased that he was here sick.

Tom and I are thinking of testing your hospitality in a very short while
- we want to see if our reception will be as "warm" as "warm" as intended.
We expect to be delegates to the Democratic convention which commences at Montgomery on the 19th inst., and, if the R. R. officials display their usual courtesy, we hope to spend a few hours with you as we return home. You may tell Mary that in anticipation thereof I have deposited in bank to his credit $3⁸⁵ - rather a munifi-cent sum, being his share of the first dividend declared in the Job 1 Corp. - Sonnell matter; and also tell her I will collect the Sonnell

= Christmas next to, now, and it shall have a similar fate.

There is little of interest transpiring in this immediate vicinity, altho. we have been entertained by quite a number of performances at the Female College and African Home. The best one at the latter place, being performed: = here. The most indifferent that was ever to any town or village.

The movement at home has been made by the advent of Mrs. Maxwell, of Maryland; which occurred yesterday. was successful in sending her to church this morning.
Many can tell you all about him.

Jim has had quite a severe attack of croup but is about all right now, at least she was able to go out this morning.

I hope you and Henry will be entirely recovered by the time 7 am and I reach that gay and picturesque city of Lyons, for we shall want you to be in good time to settle the implication of the time of us; unless you are the results attendant may be undesirable.

7 all things I am much obliged to you for the history and that I will increase his "cash on hand" to the amount of the difference between the price of Pickett's and Brown's when I came down.

Because I think his movement is no reason why you should not let us have him again.
Yours etc.

W. R. Walker
