DADDY

*Daddy, oh Daddy, what are we to do,
After all these years of loving you?
You told us not to worry and
You told us not to fuss
Now don't! worry about our tears,
It's just the human in us,
We remember you worked all day on your feet
So your poor children would have food to eat
We witnessed your trust in God's Grace,
As you struggled through life to win this race
And we knew from the very start
We received every ounce of love in your heart
Now them ole doctors can't do you no harm.
Pricking, prying, and sticking needles in your arm
Just sit back and listen to the Angels sing
You don't have to worry what the morning will bring
Now you don't have to lay in bed.
Too weak to even move your head.
Daddy you fought a good fight
And there's no more pain and suffering through the night
Don't you worry about us
They'll be properly clothed and properly fed
Go on now daddy and take your rest,
We love you but God love you best.
When you get to Heaven, take a load off your feet
Say hello to Jesus and tell Him to save us a seat.*

*Love Always
The Family*
