

In Loving Memory of Chad Sanderfer
January 19, 1977 – April 18, 2004

TRYNA LIVE (TRYIN TO LIVE)

(composed, and recorded by Chad Sanderfer) His Life Story (stage name Big Tap)

Chorus (sang)

Just tryin to live my life, but I'm dealing with this pain and strife
Just gotta keep holding on, cause I know my day won't be long.

RAP

Stuck in this life, thoughts full of pain and fear, Can't help but feel like I been insane for years,

When I wake up in the morning God'll drain my tears, I can hear my mother saying maintain my dear, I hear a voice in my heart, but it ain't that clear, I'm hoping it's the Lord telling me my day is near, Cuz I been struggling and straining for way too long, Yeah I know he's preparing me and making me strong, But I'm ready for peace, ready for happiness and joy, One way or the other Satan has to get destroyed, And I'm on my knees praying daily; But victory, is I can't let these trials and tribulations of life get to me, I gotta maintain the best I can, And I will not get deliverance, unless I stand, on His word, and let it be my sword and shield, and I don't care what you believe in, the Lord is real

Chorus

RAP

Man I'm 26 years old and still ain't lived, Now I truthfully understand what real pain is, Just manage every day feeling nervous and depressed, Lord I really feel like I don't deserve this stress. But I was told you got something better waiting for me, and one day a brother finally gone be able to breathe, If I can just keep in mind that I'm bout to get blessed, and hold on till you decide to get me out this mess. Everything is gonna be just fine, so you get ready Satan, cuz I'm about to take back what's mine. Every little thing that you stole when I came to Christ. I've experienced some painful nights in this game of life. I remember feeling insane, like I can't get right, desperately ready to exchange this rain for light. But it's all good cuz trouble don't last forever, even though I've had a long storm, it's bout to get better

Chorus

RAP

Words can't explain all the hurt and pain I'm dealing with. Satan got me feeling insane, my brain is illing. Lord help me I'm in seek of a blessing, but can't get near it

I need for you to take away this anxious spirit. And I'm trying to walk by faith but it ain't that easy, Cuz my courage be coming up short like Zane and Weezy.

Guess I gotta maintain, stay on my knees and keep praying. Believe one of these days, I'm gone defeat Satan, Victory is all mine, it already been declared, whatever comes my way, I'll never be scared.

As long as I wear my armour, I'm gonna stay protected, so go ahead throw your best hit, I'm blessed with, The grace of God which is sweeter than a snickers bar

Watch this little light of mine shine like a star. I know this life is hard, but ain't too hard, All you gotta do is just rest, and put your faith in God

Chorus