My dearest Harry:

How did you manage to sell the Quince Place, I remember hearing you all talk about it but don't ever remember you getting any thing off of it, it was quite a shock to me and of course a pleasant surprise to get the check.

I had planned to write to you yesterday. I had a letter from the Ingram boy saying the plate glass in the front was very dangerous and "libel" to kill some one so I tho't I'd ask you to look at it when you're passing that way, I don't want to have anything like that happen but hate to put out any more money on the store right now if its safe; he wrote quite an epistle about it.

Wish I could be at home for Xmas, Miss
being there now 'cause Allan would enjoy it so much and he talks about you all all the time and especially Bob Henry. I suppose Bob Henry is getting too big to be very excited over Xmas and Santa Claus.

I wish you all would drive down to see us some time, you've been taking so many trips this fall and I'd love to live nearer so you could come to see me often -

Memory sent me a beautiful pair of hose she always sends such lovely presents.

Lots of love and good wishes for a very happy Xmas for you & the family

Devotedly

Baby Jen -
