My dear Harry:

Upon my return to the office, I found your wonderful editorial entitled, "Let's Have Harmony".

Harry, I never read anything in my life more pleasing and I thank you with all my heart. If you have a dozen or so papers of that issue, please let me have them.

I want you to know that Mrs. Graves thinks as much as I do of the article. I carried it home with me at lunch and let her read it before I answered your letter.

With warmest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely,
