

219 Elder St. Clondale - 1
Feb. 13 - 1923.

My dear "Baby": Bob.
Henry's dear little letter deserves and will receive a personal reply. I hope the suit will be large enough, but can exchange it for one of spring or summer material. The one sent was the largest of that line of goods.
Your Saturday night

a acknowledgment of it and the records gave me genuine pleasure. One of them has a history which I will tell you some time. We are disturbed by the failure of the vegetables to reach you Saturday. I fear they will suffer from being in the hot Express office all day Sunday. Sue was not at home. When Fessie L. called, but saw her yesterday Monday before she left that night. — I am enclosing some clippings that may be of interest to the Chapter. Mrs. Fitzgerald Salter is the great grand daughter of John Wade Keyes, our patriot saint, and a worthy descendant of so illustrious an ancestor.
She is a prominent member of the First Baptist Church here.

I had letters today from Lura Lavin and King Martin giving a report of the Class of Sunday.
You must assure them how grateful I am for their thoughtfulness of my interest and anxiety that there should be no lapse in the work. I wrote both of them how gratified I was to receive such lovely reports and from such reliable sources.

Tuesday Night -

I am thinking of the Kirranis Lanner, and have a vision of the scene ~~is~~ the basement of the Church. I do hope the peppers and cauliflower reached Brauch in good shape. Thom. and Sue took much pains in getting them off, and impressed the Express agent with the fact it was not to be shipped to Athens, re are state capitols - with my most at-

Ruth passed her "exams" creditably, and wrote her father a lovely letter in regard to the effort she had made - She was examined on English, French, Latin and Spanish, and Physics - the last the most difficult to her.
Miss Booth extended Dr. McCracken President of Vassar an invitation to address her graduates this year. Did you read his letter in the Advertiser in Oliver Gardner's communication. He could not accept - had just returned from Europe - and was crowded with work.
I was sorry to hear of Mr.
Mears illness - He seems to be so unfortunate! Mrs. Mayfield invited me to her reception today for Mrs. Dr. Brandon. She assisted

I did not go. There was such a crush. Mrs. Cobbs asked me attend the meeting of the Ionia Club at her home Thursday but I will not attend. Tell Bob the aeroplanes fly over us frequently. I trust someone is well and on his job again.
Tell Snorr and I memory received the Banner with Maria Hughes picture in it also the letters they forwarded me. The delivery out here is 10 or 12 hours behind the cities. If you write or want or attend

Don't forget to tell
Mrs. Cobbs I won't attend the Ionia Club meeting Thursday
but will attend the meeting at her home on Thursday.
