Dear Mr. Walker,

I just saw a picture of you and I am? I shouldn't ask you to write to me?

Thank you for not giving me a thing after I've seemed so indifferent. I thought you had you about the silver or I would have written you some time ago.

Please forgive me

We think it's just wonderful that you want to give us ideas and we believe we prefer knives and forks. We have such an assortment of patterns that I could hardly suggest one. I believe we have more of these one size tea ~~lately~~ ~~teapans~~ than Richardson sent today.
But I'm sure we have something like any pattern you might select.

We still get gifts. Since my last letter we've gotten a pr. of pillow cases, two spoons & just mentioned and there's a package in the post office now that I'm going to call for this afternoon. We can enjoy being our pretty things so much since we've made into this larger apartment.
We like this place and our myrick is just lovely to me.

I think Bill wrote
you about how we've struggled into society. And I guess there have never been two more unsociable people united. That's unfortunate are and I'm trying to overcome my part of it.
It's a task tho' for I've been trying it practically all my life. Don't think tho' that I don't appreciate the interest the ladies seem to take in us. They send food and call in person.

Mrs Hunter, the lady, has just sent a washerwoman my best stitching machine & didn't have one. Friends Mrs & Traquair's friends I'm being joined by Sunday & school people. I want one & Sunday and now they want me to join the class. I would like to be in Sunday school but it's hard to do like other people who you have an old husband.

Jo. Martina has been telling tales on me. I believe that if you and Miss Lizzie know her like me do you would know that it was just some more of her foolishness. I could never criticize writing if I ever looked at my sun. Martha likes to talk and doesn't mean all she says.

It's time for me to meet Bill to go to the show. He sometimes gets a few hours off and we go to a show.
Love to each of you
