

3-3-1961

Dear Harry:

Rin has Memory's letter this afternoon saying you were sick. We were very sorry to know it; especially as you are away from home, but, however, that we don't think you will be well treated but in gripe there are always so many things that can be better done here than at home than at a boarding house, no matter how kind the people are. So I suggest that if you find, or even think, that you are likely to be in a single 7 or 8 days that you and Memory pack your things and journey in this direction, and abide with us until you are actually recovered. I hope, however, that you will be feeling much letter by the time this comes to you. Permit me another sug=gestion - be very careful when you go out as it does not take much to produce a recurrence of the attack.

Tell Mary we appreciated her thoughtfulness in writing us, and we feel assured that her defiant statement that while she will do the best she can it is very poor, is a denying of her own capabilities, and we're no doubt but she will prove fully and entirely equal to the occasion.

Be sure, when you are asked by about, to send me Pickett's King instead of Browne's - you are right in supposing I preferred it. I will send you the difference in price the first time I see you.

The people at home are all well, Ria having lately recovered and Rita will write in the morning - at least I will.

W. R. WALKER, ATTORNEY, ATHENS, ALABAMA.

Almont. The chaps are at present very happy as they have been promised the great pleasure, to them, of attending a musical show to-morrow night.

Memphis people are likewise in good condition. Miss Rowdew improved very much judging from her voice over the 'phone to-night.
It was clear and stronger than hitherto.

Think over my suggestion relative to coming down, and if you think it wise and best, be sure to do so. We will be more than glad to have you and Mummy with us.

Keep us advised as to your progress in the event you should remain where you are.

I hope you will soon be all right and give my love to Mummy.
Ever devotedly,
W. R. W.