Dearest Dad + Mother —

Enjoyed

letters from both of you when I returned early this morning from Alberto's. They were lovely to me and I had a fine birthday. Mamma is too extravagant, giving me $70.00 for a present. Well, I haven't written much lately as I've been busy. We won our case Thursday. We were sued for $80, paid set-off, and struck the plaintiff for an $85.00 judgement. He ought to see how he sued.

Got my paper back this morning. Got "98" on this one which I enclose. The Judge marked it 95 but seems to have erased it and raised my grade. He seems to like me in an impersonal way. The erasures are not mine. Have an exam on "Corporations" Wednesday. This is a hard book — but it's fairly interesting.

Am counting the days to Friday when I'll check out for home. Sure am have sick and will be very happy when Friday comes,

if it ever does.

Sorry Kirby Cole's murderers escaped. Maybe they will finally catch them and,
I hope, burn them at stake.
That is what they deserve.
I went to P. School with Junius Inman and he used to be the biggest ~~one~~ Ninny at that age. I believe his father used to work for either Dad or Uncle John. Had a Thrasher or something, as best I remember.

Mary Sue is B. Harvey's type and a perfect Tom-boy in a quiet, nice way. I am it. has a lovely wife, tho not a beautiful woman. She is young, about 25, I suppose.
Mary Sue seemed to like me and I am very fond of her.

Well, I can't write so very much today but will write again today or tomorrow.

Your affectionate son,
Alfay
