RECESSIONAL

Grandma....

My love for you is like a circle, there is no beginning or ending. The memories we have will stay deep within. You are in a better place with no worries and no pains. I thought it was just God giving me a little test, but it's real grandma you are really at rest. Why? I don't ask, because God knows best. You are now my Guardian Angel. YES! I am blessed! So save Pooh-Pooh and me some space, because I am not saying bye Grandma, but see you later Grandma!

We Love You!

So Special You Are

On the day you were born the angels came to sing, because they knew the joy you would bring to the world. I never witness true heartache until I got the words saying "your grandma is dead". You were always there for me and I will always have that special feeling in my heart filled with your love. Now, I know that I am no angel "not yet", but I wrote this poem to say how SPECIAL YOU ARE to me and how special you made this world to me.

We love you grandma! Santanna McCrary
