

Apr. 26, 1919

Dear Mrs. Walker, I saw William this morning after class. He seemed quite surprised to hear that I had just returned from a visit to his home. We talked Athens, the concert, the town-halls and the Walker family for a long time. I don't wonder that you are proud of him. He is a fine lad.

I shall feel a very personal interest in all the Athens boys - and particularly in William - after my visit among their people. I do not, ^{recall} ever having spent two days more delightfully.

I have heard nothing from the boys since I left them. I trust that they kept up their Athens behavior. I shall feel very much relieved when I get them back safe in the morning.

I can not begin to say how much I enjoyed and appreciated the hospitality of your beautifully appointed home and the association with your charming family group.

I shall not soon forget young Bob Henry, the waiters and lovely sweet Mrs. McCalland

With the very best wishes for them all. I am.

Very sincerely yours.

Madison Janant

Nashville, Tennessee

April the twenty-fifth,