Dear Uncle Harry —

I cannot tell you my honor and grief when I read of Bill's death in the New York papers. How terrible a blow to you all, in every way!

It has always been a regret to me that I had seen so little of him in later years, he was so into and brilliant a person.

It is only too obvious how futile letters such as this are - but I could not let another day pass without sending assurance of our grief and deep sympathy with you and Aunt Mary.

Please give her my love and remember me to Maudie.

My heart goes out to each one of you in so great a loss.

Bob joins we in very expressing of sympathy and affection.

With love To all,

Ruth
