

Friday, Sept. 22, 1939.

My dear Cousin, -

I want to express my greatest sympathy to you in your great sorrow. It must have been a terrible shock when you heard the sad and awful news of William's death. He started out for new position little knowing what would be the end.

Boy moved in a mysterious way, and we cant just understand why one so young and ^{with} so much ahead
should have been Taken.

We have no right to question, and I do feel that you, his widow, and all his loved ones will find help and comfort in our Heavenly Father.

With love.

Yours affectionately,
Annie Ryan.
